WALNUT - Jenny Chang, of Walnut has received an All-American Scholarship of $500 for her outstanding sales achievement with Vector Marketing.

Chang placed sixth among more than 40,000 sales representatives nationwide. A three-time recipient of the award, Chang is a senior studying biology conservation at Cal State Fullerton. She began working with Vector during the summer of 2005.

The Vector scholarship program salutes students who have excelled in their roles as sales representatives, while maintaining the demanding life of a college student. Each year, Vector recognizes its top 200 sales representatives, during three separate scholarship competitions.

"Working with Vector has taught me skills for life that could not be taught in a classroom such as time-management and interpersonal communication skills," Chang said. "Thanks to Vector, I have developed a serious drive for excellence."
